Mayht speaker technology receives an investment from FORWARD.one

28 January 2018 – Mayht, a company which develops disruptive loudspeaker technology, signed a series A funding by FORWARD.one.

Revolutionary speaker technology

Consumer electronics have become more compact and powerful over the years, while speakers have hardly changed. Mayht has developed a revolutionary loudspeaker technology which is 16x more powerful than any other existing technology; regardless of size, shape or price point. By integrating Mayht technology, flat TV's will finally sound impressive without the need of an additional large subwoofer, Mobile phones will sound like pleasant bluetooth speakers, the best home speakers in the market will become 16x smaller without any audible difference. Mayht is making it possible.

Mayht has conducted extensive conversations with key people of the global Tech Giants as well as Speaker- and Consumer Electronics companies. By demonstrating the technology, explaining the working principle, and performing measurements, it became clear that Mayht's protected technology is truly unique, and by far outperforms all existing speaker technologies.

Mayht will create its first mass manufacturable driver in 2019 and commercialise this driver in specific target markets.

Mattias Scheek, CEO of Mayht: "FORWARD.one is enabling us to mass manufacture our technology, supporting us in our strategy to make our technology available for the Tech-, Consumer Electronics - and speaker industry "

"FORWARD.one is excited about Mayht's technology as well the deep experience of its team. We have very high expectations of the impact on the Tech and Consumer Electronics markets that are always looking for ways to decrease size while preserving sound quality", said FORWARD.one partner Paul Pruijboom
