

MAYHT raises multi-million Euro follow-on investment

9 April 2020. MAYHT, a technology company which has developed highly compact powerful speaker driver technology, has raised a multi-million Euro follow-on investment from FORWARD.one Venture Capital.

“Our vision is that Mayht will become the new industry standard for speaker driver technology”, says Mattias Scheek, CEO of the company. “The world will get used to - until now unimaginable - high-quality full range sound experiences including the full bass spectrum, from the most compact of form factors.”

“With this follow-on investment, we are well-financed to revolutionize the sound experience globally. We are in the process of developing our Technology Platform which will bring optimal sound quality to any device in all verticals. We are in close contact with the world leading Tech- and Audio companies, and see their interest grow at every step that we take”.

Driver technology has so far remained unchanged for at least 75 years. With Mayht it is finally possible to think of radically new and smaller form factors, with immense sound quality improvements - a true paradigm shift. Phones will sound like bluetooth speakers, small bluetooth speakers will sound like hi-fi speakers, a flat TV will finally have home-theater sound capabilities.

About MAYHT

16x smaller than the market reference, yet retaining the same bass power, MAYHT has developed revolutionary new speaker driver technology. In previous investment rounds, MAYHT also received funding from UNIIQ and Delft Enterprises.

More information: www.mayht.com

About FORWARD.one

FORWARD.one Venture Capital was founded by entrepreneurs and financial professionals and invests in high-tech hardware innovation.

More information: press@forward.one